Subject: Power prices feedback

Hi

I already new that power prices were going through the roof when the Australian government privatised Gas and electricity this is nothing new, France had done the same thing many years ago and the result was the same and that was when the socialist party than took over and took over the power grid again there is no such thing as competition when it comes to power People are being conned

the reality is that the government is guilty and should now kick the electricity companies out of the country and give them nothing and than take back control

Kind Regards
