

Platform Networks accepted as NBN First Release aggregator

Platform Networks has been announced by NBN Co as one of 12 participants and the only purely wholesale participant in the NBN first release sites trial.

Due for September commencement of commercial super-fast broadband services, Platform Networks will now begin the onboarding process in preparation for participating in the first release site end-user trials and is actively looking for wholesale customers who have customers in the trial areas.

First release trial areas have been setup in the following locations:

- Brunswick (Vic)
- Townsville (Qld)
- Minamurra & Klama Downs (NSW)
- West Armidale (NSW)
- Willunga (SA)

David Hooton, Managing Director of Platform Networks said: "We are very excited to be among the very first service providers to offer services on the NBN and the very first wholesale only aggregator to offer services."

"I look forward to working with both new and existing customers on delivery of this exciting new product."

Platform Networks are a Sydney based aggregator of voice and data services with points of presence throughout Australia and with an international presence in New Zealand and the United States.
