Dear sirs

Are you covering how the electricity RETAILERS are gouging the consumers.

The electricity retailers are multinational companies such as [REDACTED] they are profit driven and pay huge executive salaries.

Complaints are brushed aside and the customer is left wondering why they bothered in the first place.

[REDACTED] offers a price on tariff 14: elgas and origin do not offer a similar scale. The price difference is approximately 40% less if tariff 14 is applied.

Perhaps you should look into the retailer price markups.

Regards

CW PIKE
