Re: ACCC Mobile Roaming Inquiry

To whom it may concern,

The Hunter Business Chamber appreciates the ACCC's recent draft decision not to declare mobile roaming.

The Chamber is concerned that if this decision was overturned that it would create uncertainty in the process and leave the community exposed to potential price increases and decreased coverage.

Attached with this letter is a copy of the Chamber's previous correspondence to the Inquiry stating its concerns with decisions that potentially created a disincentive for investment in rural and regional areas.

The Chamber urges sensible practice and policy that provides certainty and incentive for investment in responding to community needs.
