Subject: HIGH ELECTRICITY PRICES

To Whom It May Concern

My wife & I are 65, semi retired & drawing on our super. Life is tough enough without these exorbitant electricity prices. These massive increases were indicated months before they were affective so I'd like to know why are the authorities "crowing" about them now? I didn't hear any meaningful objections from any sector leading up to July 1. Yes there were objections from the public (& rightly so) but only now, Turnbull & co are sprooking "we have to do something" Tell that to the aged & the low income people who are living in the dark & going without heat during the winter months. If we maintained our coal powered power stations, we wouldn't be in this mess. The pollies need a rocket!!! Can someone please take the common sense approach & see that these high prices are not achievable & will lead to disaster with our fellow citizens.
