

You guys are gutless. I live in hopetoun Victoria and the Telstra service is minimal as well as Optus. If both telcos merged together and shared signals it would pretty much cover most of the hopetoun and mallee area. Blackspot program fixed in one strong smart futuristic decision. Telcos boast annually of their profit margins so maybe they and you guys can give a bit back to the country people. Please send one of you coffee drinkers from your office to see me and I will take them for a little drive and show them the frustration we face.
