Hi

I confirm the following paragraph is my submission:

The article I sent is purely to the ACCC in its assessment of the merger in light of critical infrastructure assets which have previously been acquired by financial sponsors around the world in lieu of commercial and public energy market risk to consumers and the government and long-term interest to the public despite what they say about their commitment to investment (funded by loading up more debt). Brookfield will increase the debt of Origin to financially engineer the ability of Origin to pay substantial dividends to itself, its investors and its general partners (management firm of the Brookfield fund).
