Dear Mr Wood

Third line forcing notifications N92824 and N92825 lodged by Paul James Wood (as trustee of Lawriewood Trust) and Kelsie Lynn Matsen (as trustee of Matsen Trust)

I refer to the above third line forcing notifications which were lodged with the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) on 19 February 2007. The notifications have been placed on the ACCC's public register.

According to notifications N92824 and N92825, Lawriewood Trust and Matsen Trust, trading as Caltex Roadhouse Manjimup, will provide a discount on the price of petrol and other motor fuels on condition that the offeree has purchased products of not less than a nominated minimum value from a Woolworths company.

Legal immunity conferred by the notification will commence on 5 March 2007.

The ACCC has considered the above notifications with reference to submissions previously put to it by interested parties in relation to similar notifications, as well as its own investigations. In light of this previous consideration and the information you have provided, the ACCC does not intend to take any further action in relation to the notifications at this stage.

As with any notification, please note that the ACCC may act to remove the immunity afforded by these notifications at a later stage if it is satisfied that the likely benefit to the public from the conduct will not outweigh the likely detriment to the public from the conduct.

I also note that in promoting the discount offer, consumers should be made aware of any exclusions or conditions that may apply.

This letter has been placed on the ACCC's public register. If you wish to discuss any aspect of this matter, please do not hesitate to contact Sarah Chubb on (02) 6243 1088.

Yours sincerely
