Dear ACCC

I wish to lodge an objection to eBay International AG - Notification - N93365 that is aimed at restricting my choice of payment options and in doing so diminishing or dramatically reducing my choice as a consumer by forcing to have one one payment option (the C.O.D option is not viable for the majority of buyers on EBAY) being - PAYPAL - an eBay Company or wholly owned subsidiary which holds onto your money after the money has already been withdrawn from your bank Acc a day after the sale is completed and takes up to 7 days(in that time they can use that money anyway it seem fit I.e.: the short term money market) before the money is sent to the seller

EBay tell us it is unsafe to receive money paid via bank deposit, money order or cheque
 It is obvious it must still be safe because they are what payments they accept for payment of ebay fees

Bank deposit -unsafe(according to ebay)

Money Order-unsafe(according to ebay)

Cheque- unsafe (according to ebay)

But wait

It is

Safe - to pay your ebay fees via bank deposit

Safe - to pay your ebay fees via money order

Safe - to pay you ebay fees via cheque

EBAY should not have the right to take our choice away from us

I have freedom of choice

It is might right to choose how I wish to be paid

It is my right to choose how I want to pay for something
