Dear Lauren,

Thankyou for your correspondence relating to my complaint - eBay/Pay Pal.

I have spent hours reading the results of my Googles and find the above link to be extremely informative. There are literally thousands of complaints from users of this form of trading, and humbly implore that at least you read this one.

There is within the eBay Corporation an element of complete and utter dishonesty.

As reluctant as I am to use these words, I demand absolutely that you as the investigative authority acting for and on behalf of the Australian People, take any and all appropriate action, to ensure that this Company (and its web of lies) be the centre of a full and open investigation into its activities, both on Line and Between the Lines.

The form of your response to eBay/PayPal pertaining to their application for exclusivity should read as follows:-

"Acting for and on behalf of the Australian Users of your site we feel that it is not in their interests to approve your application. It is therefore denied."

Game, Set and Match to the Australian People.

Kindest Regards,

Sincerely,

Phillip J. Rice
