

Petreski, Sonya

---

From: on behalf of Adjudication
Subject: FW: ebay forces buyers to use paypal objectionl

-----Original Message-----

From: [redacted]
Sent: Sunday, 27 April 2008 8:42 PM
To: Adjudication
Subject: ebay forces buyers to use paypal objectionl

EXCLUDED FROM PUBLIC REGISTER

hi there,

I would like to object to eBay forcing MY customers to pay by Paypal or cash on pickup from June 17 2008

For a start, they are MY customers not eBay's!

Forcing MY customers to only use Paypal would result in lost custom, as not everybody wants to plug their credit or debit card numbers into the internet. Many customers pay via a bank deposit or Australia Post money orders. Banks and Australia post would lose custom if eBay restrict payment methods.

I don't object to Paypal being offered, but it's really up to MY customer which method of payment they choose.

I am an honest seller having sold nearly 1800 items. I have 100% positive feedback. and I have an excellent return policy...these are the things that buyers look for when buying an item. Offering Paypal is one thing, but forcing MY customers to use this method of payment is an outrage.

Many thanks

Jane Seaholme

[redacted]

EXCLUDED FROM PUBLIC REGISTER