I note from the media that Pay Pal is seeking exclusive coverage of EBay payments.

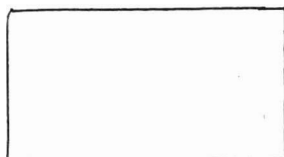

I am a consumer – a buyer on EBay and, as it happens a Fellow of CPA Australia who has never had a bad debt in my life.

Pay Pal has excluded me from using their payments system because I did not update my credit card details. I tried to update it several times but could not follow their website on how to do it. I am very computer literate.

Their records show that my balance is $nil but I cannot use their payments system.

My advice would be to not allow them exclusivity or I will not be able to use eBay which is quite a good service.

Thanks
Evan Parker
