To whom it may concern,

The application by Ebay to only allow Paypal is grossly unfair and anti competitive. In Australia we have a perfectly good and modern system of online bank transfers at little or no cost to the consumer. They are safe and efficient and have worked for a number of years. Ebay is simply trying to lock transactions into Paypal to increase revenue. The current system works and does not cause problems.

By locking Paypal only transactions would cause the system to be less competitive and more expensive. 2 things that the ACCC is meant to protect.

Please do not let ebay only allow Paypal transactions.

Sincerely

Jean-Claude Branch
