Dear Sir/Madam,

I am just writing today in regards to eBay PayPal only new policies; both two issues are dictating eBay customers on how payments are to be made and leaving customers without the right for choice.. Bank deposit is a safe method as well, and I had hundreds of Bank deposits transactions, which I have never had reason to fault.

It looks like just a ploy for them to make more money out of the users, if paypal was the safest method, people will use it anyway.. no need for it to be forced on us..

Finally, this matter will affect them more than anyone else, there are other auction websites that are cheaper and respects their customers freedom of choice..

Thank you very much for your time

Regards,

Samuel.
