Hi Would like to lodge a public submission against this ridiculous rule that will be enforced 17th June by Ebay.co.au.

I have been a powerseller on ebay for 5 years and sell scrapbooking and craft supplies.

This will not only be detrimental to my business, but is taking away the right for my customers to choose. This ruling is also being applied to 3rd party checkout options, where a customer checks out through my website.

Surely I have the right on my website to say how people are to pay, eBay have no right to dictate to me or my customers on how they must pay.

Third line forcing must surely cover this push forward by ebay to implement it's own company as the only payment method.

If I rented a shop at WestPoint, came in one morning to be told you can only accept paypal, how many customers do you think I would loose ?

This ruling really effects my senior buyers, who have expressed that they are not comfortable paying via credit card, they like to pop to their local bank and pay in over the counter. Bank deposit counts for 60% of my business.

Look forward to hearing your comments and ruling
