Dear Sir/Madam,

I wish to register my dissatisfaction with eBay moving to Paypal only for its payment. I regularly use eBay (as a buyer and a seller) and have used mainly direct deposit for my payments. I disagree with eBay that it is not a safe form of transaction. The details provided by sellers are the same as provided on a personal cheque, so there is no greater security risk to sellers than has existed for decades. The added costs involved with using Paypal would likely mean a rise in costs overall for goods on eBay. I urge you not to remove the immunity.

Thank you

Your Sincerely
Ellen
