Hello Lauren,

No doubt you have received numerous emails complaining about ebay's money grab so I fear that this email may not even be read.

If you have read this far, good on you! Please add my voice to all the others who have remonstrated against the proposed unfair changes to ebay payment methods. The new regime will restrict the way in which people may conduct their business. The new restrictive ebay trading rules will remove options for users who may not be able to afford the marginal reduction in profits and thus will go out of business. The inability of businesses to continue trading will result in a lower number of traders and therefore competitiveness will decrease and the customers will be paying more. What does ACCC stand for again?

I could go on and on about freedom of choice, etc, etc, etc, but since I doubt you have time to read every email in this string, I'm not going to waste my time or yours other than to say, THE PEOPLE ARE NOT HAPPY. The ebay users are the people you need to stand up for! Apart from ebay, I wonder who has written to you saying, "Yippee, let's give ebay more money for taking options away!"???

STAND UP FOR US!!! See that ebay does not get away with this!

Yours faithfully,

Steve McQuinn
