Subject: Ebay paypal trade practice issue submission

Hello -

I know that I have missed the 2nd may deadline, but here is my submission anyway:

I think this is definitely not good, beneficial, or legal - and I lobby you to rule so.

I am a small time buyer and seller, but I object to being forced into paying more for transactions when it is not necessary.

The argument that Paypal is safer is ridiculous to me. I am glad there is a safer option, and when I choose to use it I will. Denying me that choice is not right. Payment methods are not fraudulent. Some people are fraudulent. Making them use paypal doesn't chnage the people - it just moves the problem.

Its clear to me that the primary motivation for this move by ebay is profit - in recognising this, please rule against them. With penalties, if possible.

I have already notified ebay that I will exit their business if they proceed.

Thanks,
Bruce Coomer
