

Roy, Lauren

Subject: Paypal & Ebay
Importance: High
Attachments: pastedGraphic.tiff; ATT13036910.txt

pastedGraphic.tiff
(111 KB)

ATT13036910.txt
(68 B)

From: Thongy's Auto Parts [mailto:thongysautoparts@people.net.au]
Sent: Thursday, 1 May 2008 4:22 PM
To: Adjudication; Roy, Lauren
Subject: Paypal & Ebay
Importance: High

ACCC,

I would like to bring up a complaint in regarding to E-bay forcing all it's Sellers to use ONLY PAY PAL for payment method. Them in stating that it is safer to use Paypal for payments considering all the Fraud that goes out there with people back charging their Credit Cards. It FORCES no other payment options for the buyer and rules out competition for the banks. Banks then are not able to to compete as Direct Deposit will not in future be accepted. I honestly believe that SELERS should have a choice in how they accept payment by. As E-Bay are a service provider and not a SELLER of products and should not be allowed to dictate sellers only paypal payment method is to be accepted. I'm sure that the Major Banks will argue their case on how safe their online banking is. With Paypal it seems to be like MONOPOLY forcing ALL SELLERS to pay more in fees to E-BAY. Paypal has an ABN and I also wonder why tey do not have to pay GST? Which is also robing the govt of Goods and Services Taxes. I would like the ACCC to investigate into this matter as for all E-bay sellers to be able to provide other payment methods than Paypal.

Regards,

Thongy

E-mail: thongysautoparts@people.net.au
Web: <http://stores.ebay.com.au/Thongys-Auto-Parts>