Dear Lauren Roy

Having read the attachment I am of the opinion that Ebay are using Third Line Forcing, by forcing its buyers and sellers to use Paypal as a third party to all transactions.

I have used ebay for many years and have always used direct deposit for both my selling and buying activities with no problems at all and obviously no ebay involvement in the paying process, by forcing their clients to use paypal they are surley forcing a third party into the transactions and forcing us to pay paypal fees on top of general ebay fees.

I wish you to treat this email as a public submission regarding the notification.

Thank You

Penny Elverd
