Dear Mr Samuels, Ms Roy and to whom it may concern

I have read the eBay notification and their submissions to the ACCC about exclusive dealing. I have also read many submissions against the proposed conduct and the ACCC's draft notice of revocation.

I agree with the ACCC's draft notice as I believe eBay's proposed conduct would decrease competition and not have an overall public benefit.

If I choose to buy/sell on ebay and wish to I should be able to select any of the below payment methods:

Direct Deposit
Aust post Money Order
Personal cheques
Cash
Amex
Visa
Mastercard
PAYMATE

My payment terms is no one elses business apart from the buyer/seller.
ebay are only providng the venue for the sale to take place and are in no way, shape or form involved in my sale/transaction - this has been the terms since I joined ebay

For some sellers, the costs and risks associated with accepting payment by PayPal are unacceptable. These sellers MUST be allowed to operate their businesses as they see fit, and to choose their own payment methods and service providers. There are other third parties that offer similar (and often far superior) payment processing services to PayPal's, and a seller who is happy with a third party provider should not be forced to use the services of PayPal against their wishes..

I would appreciate you taking into account my additional comments in this email and thank you for your valued consideration of the matter and eventually to revoke immunity for ebay's PayPal only policy and as stated allow direct deposit only as a payment option if a seller chooses this option.

Regards
Lorraine Day
