

EXCLUDED FROM PUBLIC REGISTER

-----Original Message-----

From: John Oakhill [mailto:

Sent: Friday, 13 June 2008 7:53 PM

To: Adjudication

Subject: Exclusive Dealing Notification N93365 lodged by eBay InternationalAG

I support the ACCC proposal to revoke the immunity provided by the subject notice.

In the last week I have seen an example of the failure of Paypal protection, due solely to its own operational procedures. This type of failure (which I suspect is common) undermines the whole argument contained in the Exclusive Dealing Notification. Further information can be provided if required.

I further encourage the ACCC to examine whether eBay's requirement for sellers to include Paypal on all listings is anti-competitive.

I further encourage the ACCC to examine whether eBay's exclusion of legitimate alternative payment methods such as Bpay, Paymate, American Express etc. is anti-competitive.