Subject: ebay proposal to limit payment methods to paypal only

Dear Sir/Madam,

Please accept my submission on ebay's proposal to limit payment methods accepted on its au site. I agree with your draft proposal and wish to see it make in to a final decision.

I am a powerseller as well as a buyer on ebay.com.au and have been for over 3 years.

I have had in excess of 3000 successful transactions in that time without any problems.

During that time I have happily used and accepted, bank deposit payments, money order payments and paypal payments.

I believe that limiting the payment methods available is restrictive for sellers, restrictive for buyers, and anti-competition.

There are plenty of payment options legally available to Australian consumers that are more than adequately supported by systems provided by Australian and International banks, Australia Post, credit card companies, escrow services, other and payment service providers. It would also prevent new payment systems being developed and create a monopoly in on-line payment systems.

I am happy for my submission to be published but ask that my name and contact details be withheld.

Thanking you
