eBay International AG exclusive dealing notification N93365

Hi, my name is <name excluded>. I've been a loyal eBay user since 2002 and feel that the change to be forced to use PayPal ONLY for online eBay transactions is just WRONG.

eBay say it is to offer protection, but I have NEVER in all my years in using eBay as a buyer and seller had any problem paying for an item by online Direct Deposit banking, or receiving funds for an item by online Direct Deposit banking. My eBay userid is <excluded> and I currently have 230 eBay transactions with a 100% rating. I DON'T NEED PROTECTION, eBay! Some people might want the protection, and that's fine. They can use PayPal if they want. But give us the choice.

The fact that PayPal is a company that eBay owns makes the whole thing even creepier.

Thank you for your time.
