Subject: Ebay/Paypal Changes

I agree that Paypal or forced methods of payments should not be allowed on Ebay (or anyone for that matter).

Sure Paypal is more secure, but the buyer can decide if they wish to choose a particular seller based on their payment methods just like in real retail-land.

From a seller's perspective, the high-costs associated with transacting with Ebay may not be worth dealing with them for payment processing. There are cheaper and secure methods out there also.

Please add my vote in to stop Ebay from imposing the feathering of their own pockets by forcing extra revenue generation with their own payment method.

Ebay are the #1 online shopping destination, and as such, they must be free from taking advantage of consumers by their marketshare.
