Dear Sir/Madam

Just wanting to add my voice to the current investigation of the use of Paypal by EBay Australia. As a long time user of EBay I resent being forced to use a payment system operated for the profit of the service provider. EBay users are well capable of assessing risk when they offer payment options and should not be restricted to that which EBay decides is most appropriate. Even EBay's current approach of forcing sellers to provide a Paypal option is wrong and unfair.

I support the ACCC's 12 June draft notice to revoke notification N93365 lodged by eBay International A.G. on 11 April 2008.

EBay should also be compelled to refund Paypal fees obtained since forcing sellers to include a Paypal option since last month.

Yours sincerely

Paul Davies
