I think you need to be aware that ebay are currently trying to "cook the books" by making it appear as though there is a huge increase in listings. Please read:
<http://forums.ebay.com.au/thread.jspa?threadID=500087815&start=0>

Plus, although they seem to have dropped the Paypal only push at this stage, on signing in to ebay today I was presented with a screen as below:

I'm not sure if you can read the box "Don't have a Paypal account yet", but it says "Just set it up once - it's easy and free"

They are SO determined to get as many signed up as possible!

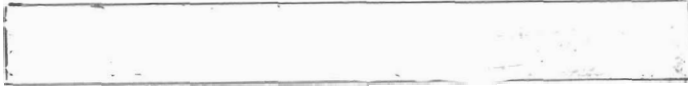

A disgusting way to operate a business.

Colin Elliott
