Hi Lauren,

I would like to make the following submission:

"EBay's public statements and behaviour in response to the relevant draft notice issued by the ACCC on 12/06/08 is damning of EBay's intent and attitude towards their long suffering customers.

Ebay is clearly intent on ignoring the ACCC's opinion, in effect hoping it can steamroll any opposition to it's plan to hamstring it's customers with respect to electronic payment options. I urge the ACCC to pursue any and all enforcement options available to it in order to prevent Ebay from forcing it's customers to use PayPal as the exclusive electronic payment option for Ebay purchases. The behaviour from Ebay in this instance is in my opinion a clear <excluded> of the Trade Practices Act, and I look forward to seeing the ACCC jump on Ebay from a great height should Ebay continue to attempt to engage in this <excluded>."

Yours sincerely,

David Gold
