Date: 24 February 2009

Subject: Submission after determination: Australasian
College of Cosmetic Surgery – Authorization – A91106

I am writing as a consumer to support the ACCCs' decision to deny the abovementioned authorization and to fully support the following ACCCs' position as outlined in media release NR034/09. Issued: 23 February 2009.

" The ACCC considers codes that promote the provision of accurate and complete information to consumers, and the ethical and professional conduct of members are likely to produce public benefits"

I also wish to suggest that the members of the College who are not providing accurate and complete information to consumers are not only acting to the detriment of the public benefit but also contravening Section 52 of the Trade Practices Act 1974 – Misleading or deceptive conduct.

Cited cases: Fraser v NRMA Holdings Limited (1995) 15 ACSR 590 and Henjo Investments Pty Ltd v Collins Marrickville Pty Ltd (1998) 79 ALR 83 at 95.

I hope the above adds to further constructive discussions by interested parties.
