Gina

We have just been made aware that the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) has recently notified the CBH Group of its intention to review Grain Express.

As you will consider Grain Express was introduced by CBH in 2008 and has allowed a most effective and efficient grain delivery system, from storage to port.

As growers, in the competitive grain marketing environment that currently exists, we are interested in a system that provides easy access to all marketers, has no increase in storage and handling costs and even returns a freight rebate! With the current low grain prices this is a welcomed cost saving.

Grain Express is a very workable logistical system and we hope that you will consider these points when reviewing Grain Express.

Your sincerely

Doug & Roma Parker
