Subject: airlines and virgin blue

i have heard that the accc is preparing to go against virgin blue being competitive in the new zealand routes.

as i consumer and traveller i do not want a QANTAS monopoly with jetstar on the trans tasman / new zealand routes.

'virgin blue' is a great airline and should be allowed to compete on the same terms as QANTAS does.

and this means being able to offer services freely or jointly with partners.

regards
mark konemann
