2. Notified arrangement

(a) Description of the goods or services in relation to the supply or acquisition of which this notice relates:

This notice relates to the supply of retail petroleum products and retail grocery products.

(b) Description of the conduct or proposed conduct:

The proposed conduct comprises the giving or offering of a discount in relation to the supply or proposed supply of motor fuels by Haylcon Pty Ltd to consumers purchasing these products at participating service stations in Western Australia, on the condition that the consumer has purchased prescribed groceries (of a qualifying amount) at participating IGA stores nominated by IGA Distribution (WA) Pty Limited (ACN 008 667 650) (IGA) in Western Australia. Up to 150 IGA stores may participate in the proposed conduct. Consumers who spend the qualifying amount at the participating IGA stores would receive a voucher which entitles them to a fuel discount at Waroona Roadhouse - Puma service stations (the Promotion).

Approximately 1 Waroona Roadhouse - Puma service stations will participate in the promotion.

(c) Where number of persons stated in item 3 (b) (i) is less than 50, their names and addresses:

4. Public benefit claims

(a) Arguments in support of notification:

The proposed conduct is likely to be of public benefit for the following reasons:

- consumers who choose to accept the offer will benefit from lower fuel prices;
- the proposed conduct is likely to increase the ability of Waroona Roadhouse - Puma and IGA to compete with much larger competitors in the retail fuel and grocery markets (most of whom already engage in similar conduct) with a likely result of greater competition in those markets;
- the proposed conduct may also further enhance non-price competition in the retail fuel and grocery markets by encouraging competitors to devise innovative and alternative non-price incentives to attract consumers.

There is no anticompetitive effect in such conduct and it is not against the public interest because:

- there are large numbers of service stations and supermarkets in Western Australia, of which only a relatively small number (100 service stations and approximately 150 supermarkets) would be involved in the proposed conduct;
- the proposed conduct will not affect the ability of consumers to purchase fuel from whichever services stations they may choose;

- the proposed conduct will not affect the ability of consumers to purchase groceries from whichever supermarkets they may choose;
- the participating Waroona Roadhouse - Puma service stations will continue to provide fuel independently of the proposed conduct;
- consumers will therefore not be forced to purchase grocery products and fuel from particular outlets or retailers.

(b) Facts and evidence relied upon in support of these claims:

- The ACCC report of 2004 'Assessing Shopper Docket Petrol Discounts and Acquisitions in the Petrol and Grocery Sectors' (Shopper Docket Report) found that the introduction of the shopper docket schemes has encouraged competition and lower prices in the fuel market. The Shopper Docket Report also reported the ACCC's view that there are significant benefits to consumers from shopper docket petrol discount schemes (pg 3).
- The major supermarket chains have implemented similar discount fuel promotions with large fuel retailers, under which their customers receive a voucher entitling them to receive a discount on petrol purchased at a number of stations nationwide. The proposed conduct will enhance the ability of IGA and Waroona Roadhouse - Puma to compete against these retailers.
- There are only 1 Waroona Roadhouse - Puma service stations that would be involved in the proposed conduct, compared to approximately 100 other service stations. It follows that the proposed conduct will affect only a relatively small proportion of retail fuel outlets in WA.
