2. Notified arrangement

(a) Description of the goods or services in relation to the supply or acquisition of which this notice relates:

The proposed arrangements relate to the supply of certain additional benefits and services (in particular, the provision of free or discounted shipping services) by the Merchant to certain customers who purchase products from the Merchant online.

(b) Description of the conduct or proposed conduct:

From 30 November 2017, the Merchant and the Australian Postal Corporation (Australia Post) propose to offer various services and benefits to customers and in particular, free or discounted shipping costs for eligible products purchased from the Merchant online (where the total amount purchased in a single transaction exceeds $25) on the condition that the customers also acquire services (being the purchase of a membership and the creation of an online account) from Australia Post as part of Australia Post's new "DeliveryClub"<sup>1</sup> promotion.

Further details are set out below.

This conduct may be characterised as the Merchant proposing to:

- supply, or offer to supply, additional benefits and services (e.g. free or discounted shipping on eligible products purchased from the Merchant) to a person, on the condition that the person has or will acquire an eligible online account from Australia Post; and
- refuse to supply certain benefits and services (e.g. free or discounted shipping on eligible products purchased from the Merchant) to a person for the reason that the person has not acquired, or has not agreed to acquire, an eligible online account from Australia Post.

Further details of proposed conduct are as follows:

From 30 November 2017, current and future customers of the Merchant who are members of Australia Post's DeliveryClub will be able to access various additional benefits and services, including free or discounted delivery on eligible products purchased through the Merchant's online platform, where the total amount purchased in a single transaction exceeds $25.

Australia Post has established a website where customers wishing to become DeliveryClub members are able to enter their details, pay the applicable membership fee (if applicable) and identify retailers (such as the Merchant) who are participating in the DeliveryClub program, and will offer DeliveryClub members additional benefits and services, (including free or discounted delivery for online purchases).

The DeliveryClub website address is as follows: www.deliveryclub.auspost

Customers who are DeliveryClub members using the Merchant's online platform to purchase products will not need to purchase any additional products or services from Australia Post, but will need to have created an online account and have paid the applicable membership fee to Australia Post, in order to identify themselves to the Merchant as DeliveryClub members and obtain access to the additional services and benefits from the Merchant.

(Refer to direction 4)

3. Persons, or classes of persons, affected or likely to be affected by the notified conduct

- (a) Class or classes of persons to which the conduct relates:
(Refer to direction 5)

Customers who are DeliveryClub members who purchase eligible products online from the Merchant's website where the total amount purchased in a single transaction exceeds $25.

- (b) Number of those persons:

- (i) At present time:

Not known, but expected to be substantially greater than 50.

- (ii) Estimated within the next year:
(Refer to direction 6)

Not known, but expected to be substantially greater than 50.

- (c) Where number of persons stated in item 3 (b) (i) is less than 50, their names and addresses:

N/A

4. Public benefit claims

- (a) Arguments in support of notification:
(Refer to direction 7)

The proposed conduct will be of benefit to the public as it will provide benefits to customers who purchase products and services online from the Merchant's and other participating merchants' websites. By acquiring a DeliveryClub membership account with Australia Post, DeliveryClub members will be able to access additional benefits and services (and specifically, discounted delivery) on purchases over $25.

The ability to receive additional benefits that enhance a customer's online shopping experience is likely to encourage broader use of online shopping, to the convenience and benefit of both customers and Merchants.

- (b) Facts and evidence relied upon in support of these claims:

- For customers who are regular users of the Merchant's online shopping services (or those of other participating merchants in the DeliveryClub program), a DeliveryClub membership could lead to a reduction in the overall cost of product delivery that those customers incur when online shopping.
- For customers with the perception or concern that the delivery and shipping costs associated with online shopping are uncertain or may be prohibitive, the ability to purchase a DeliveryClub membership may also enable them to shop online using the Merchant or other participating merchants with increased certainty as to the shipping and delivery costs they will be required to pay.

5. Market definition

Provide a description of the market(s) in which the goods or services described at 2(a) are supplied or acquired and other affected markets including: significant suppliers and acquirers; substitutes available for the relevant goods or services; any restriction on the supply or acquisition of the relevant goods or services (for example geographic or legal restrictions):
(Refer to direction 8)

The relevant markets may be described as:

- (a) the supply of products online, including the supply of cosmetics and beauty products and
- (b) the provision of services relating to online shopping, including delivery and shipping of products to consumers.

6. Public detriments

- (a) Detriments to the public resulting or likely to result from the notification, in particular the likely effect of the notified conduct on the prices of the goods or services described at 2(a) above and the prices of goods or services in other affected markets:
(Refer to direction 9)

No public detriments are likely to result from the proposed conduct.

- (b) Facts and evidence relevant to these detriments:

Public detriment is unlikely to occur because:

- the use of online shopping (or “e-commerce”) by merchants and customers in Australia is continuing to grow (by volume and value), and the Merchant anticipates even more competition in this area in the future, with the expected new entry of one or more significant global retailers with a significant online capability;
- the number of consumers potentially affected by the proposed conduct is insignificant, compared to the total number of consumers who shop for products and services online in Australia;
- customers who do not wish to purchase a DeliveryClub membership will not be prevented from purchasing the Merchant’s products and services that are the subject of this notice at the same price (however they may not be able to access the same additional benefits and services, including free or discounted delivery); and

- customers will remain free to acquire the relevant products and services that are the subject of this notice from the Merchant and a number of other retailers and online suppliers.
