Subject: Tooltechnic Systems (Aust) Pty Ltd-Resale Price Maintenance-Must continue

Hello Tess,

As per your email dated 21/02/2018 for the continuation of the Resale Price Maintenance, I fully support this extension, the pricing structure works extremely well as all customers purchasing the Festool products know the pricing is set whether the tools are purchased through a store or online, the pricing will be the same
The Festool products are unique, as all products made are the best, customers purchasing these know this is a tool or accessory which is made to last and ensures when carrying out a task or job the completed job will be superior if purchasing a cheaper tool

The Festool range of tools are extensive and as a dealer it is vital that all tools sold are sold with the correct Festool accessories, such as saw blades, clamps, guide rails to ensure correct operation of the tools for the task at hand, and with the RSM Pricing my business is extremely confident to carry a large range of stock of tools and accessories and consumables

I look forward to this successful RSM Continuing not only for Festool Products but now Fein as well.....excellent

Thanks

Have a fantastic day
